Exploration & Evaluation

Updates on the Vanguard Project

- Gensource held an Indigenous information session on April 6, 2017 at the Double Tree by Hilton Hotel & Conference Centre in Regina. Members of Gensource's management team, as well as one of the directors from the board, were in attendance to present information about Gensource, and the Project, to interested parties.
- Gensource completed a field groundwater investigation program with Golder Associates Ltd., which included installation and testing of a full-scale production water well with two observation wells. The goal of the program was to evaluate the presence and adequacy (quality and quantity) of potential groundwater sources for the project. Data collected fed into the Feasibility Study, as well as Golder's Technical Proposal for submission to the Environmental Assessment and Stewardship Branch.
- On May 3, 2017, Gensource held a shareholder update conference call.
- On May 18, 2017, Gensource issued a news release, providing shareholders a general corporate and project update.
- Gensource issued a News Release on May 31, 2017, announcing the results of the Feasibility Study. The Study confirms the technical and economic viability of the project, even in this time of low potash prices. Gensource is extremely pleased with the results of the Study, and continues to affirm it has selected the right approach to potash production. Highlights from the Study can be found in the news release on the company's website.
- Based on the technology, size, and environmental footprint of Gensource's project, the project may not be classified as a development under The Environmental Act. Gensource and Golder completed and submitted the Technical Proposal for the Vanguard One Project, to the Environmental Assessment and Stewardship Branch (EA Branch) of the Ministry of the Environment in June 2017. The Technical Proposal will be reviewed by the EA Branch for a determination as to whether or not Gensource's project would also not classify as a development, and not require completion of a full EA process.
- The final interpretation and results of the 3D Seismic Program were completed in conjunction with the Feasibility Study.
- Subsequent to the completion of the Feasibility Study, Gensource will produce a National Instrument (NI) 43-101 Technical Report, summarizing the Feasibility Study for the Vanguard One Project, for filing on SEDAR.

Current and Future Plans Related to the Vanguard Project

- The next steps for the Vanguard One project involve confirming the construction financing and then moving the project into the detailed engineering, long-lead procurement, and construction phase.
- Gensource submitted a detailed Project Proposal to the Saskatchewan Environmental Assessment (EA) Branch in late June 2017 and is awaiting determination from the Branch.
- Concurrent to advancing the Vanguard One Project, Gensource is beginning planning and initial field work on resource confirmation work on its KL244 lease in the Vanguard Area. Expanding the definition of the resource in the Vanguard Area creates additional project opportunities for Gensource and potential market partners.

The following summarizes the Company's current confirmation and development programs at the Vanguard project areas, total estimated cost to complete the project development work, and total expenditures incurred to date.

Disclosure Controls

Management has established processes to provide them with sufficient knowledge to support representations that they have exercised reasonable diligence to ensure that (i) the consolidated financial statements do not contain any untrue statement of material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances under which it is made, as of the date of and for the periods presented by the consolidated financial statements; and (ii) the consolidated financial statements fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the Company, as of the date of and for the periods presented.

In contrast to the certificate required for non-venture issuers under National Instrument 52-109 Certification of Disclosure in Issuers' Annual and Interim Filings ("NI 52-109"), the Company uses the Venture Issuer Basic Certificate filed by the Company, which does not include representations relating to the establishment and maintenance of disclosure controls and procedures ("DC&P") and internal control over financial reporting ("ICFR"), as defined in NI 52-109. In particular, the certifying officers filing such certificate are not making any representations relating to the establishment and maintenance of:

- i) controls and other procedures designed to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed by the issuer in its annual filings, interim filings or other reports filed or submitted under securities legislation is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in securities legislation; and
- ii) a process to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with the issuer's GAAP (IFRS).

The Company's certifying officers are responsible for ensuring that processes are in place to provide them with sufficient knowledge to support the representations they are making in such certificate. Investors should be aware that inherent limitations on the ability of certifying officers of a venture issuer to design and implement on a cost effective basis DC&P and ICFR as defined in NI 52-109 may result in additional risks to the quality, reliability, transparency and timeliness of interim and annual filings and other reports provided under securities legislation.
